New Programs

PCCs intending to offer program(s) leading to a credential for Developmental Services Worker (DSW) must meet the following requirements:

- Obtain a third party assessment (fact sheet #3) attesting to compliance with the DSW Standards; AND
- Submit a complete program approval application through the RICC system

Currently Approved Programs

A PCC offering a program leading to a credential as a DSW that was approved before policy directive #12 came into effect on October 28, 2013 will lose its approval to offer this program and the related credential on August 11, 2014, unless it does the following by June 5, 2014:

- Adopt the current MTCU Private Career College Developmental Services Worker Subject Specific Standard (DSW Standard);
- Obtain a third party assessment from a qualified subject matter expert and an adult education expert, attesting to compliance with the DSW Standard; AND
- Submit a complete Request for Program Changes application through the RICC system; OR
- For program(s) that are currently NOT entered in the RICC system (legacy program(s)), a PCC must submit a complete program approval application, by entering the program as a new program in the RICC system.
